Introduction: The biggest challenge facing corporate today is the lack of vision in corporate governance. From legal, economic and social to environmental degradation can be attributed to poor governance and the fall-outs are reversible but environmental degradation has brought planet earth to the brink of the sixth mass extinction event. The course begins by analyzing the corporate citizenship of an organisation in its business environment and the domain knowledge of business ethics and social responsibility and responsiveness. Further, the course will develop the concept of global exposure and cross-cultural understanding to make globally responsive managers.

| Course Code : MBA 408, Crédits : 03, Session : 2018-19 (Even Sem.), Class : MBA. 2nd Year |

A. Introduction: The aim of the course is to orient the finance students to the changes in the financial industry. The financial industry much like the computer industry is changing rapidly. A course that merely describes the existing institutions will not prepare the students adequately for the change. Thus, familiarization with institutions of today & developing an understanding why they are the way they are, and why they are changing is the core aim of the course. An Indian perspective will be added but conceptually the Global frameworks will be used. This course will help students to develop Business Environment and Domain Knowledge, Critical thinking, Business Analysis, Problem Solving and Innovative Solutions, Global Exposure and Cross-Cultural Understanding, Social Responsiveness and Ethics.

B. Course Outcomes: At the end of the course, students will be able to:

CO1. Understanding the broader problems of Banks and financial institutions

CO2. Understand the entire process of operating a bank and other financial institutions with respects to the rules and regulations prescribed by the regulators.

CO3. Explain elements of the Basel regulatory framework, with special emphasis on capital adequacy regulation, and calculate banks' required capital ratios given their balance sheets.

CO4. Explain the roles financial intermediaries perform in society and the major risks they face

CO5. Understand The modern banking service.

C. Programme Outcomes:

Introduction: The death of a salesman in the B2B channels is as real as the day itself. E-commerce has radically changed how people identified their needs, searched for products, analysed their options, made the purchase and then provided their feedback based on their experience of the service of the product provider or the satisfaction they have gained from the product itself. This course is designed to facilitate this generation of netizens to graduate from a level of only buying and availing online services to a level where they are sensitized with what it takes for an online marketer to recruit customers online and provide them services and products that are sold online, but are not necessarily availed online. The course will explicate the role of business environment and domain knowledge and impress upon skills like critical thinking, business analysis, and problem solving and creating innovative solutions.

SSSSSSSSSSSSSS. Course Outcomes: At the end of the course, students will be able to:

MBA476.1. On studying this module, the students will be able to understand the concept of marketing in digital environment. They will also be able to relate traditional marketing concepts with digital marketing and evaluate the use of various channel options available for digital marketing.

D. Syllabus

Module I: Introduction

Meaning and Importance of Research, Conceptualization and Formulation of a Research Problem, Introduction to Research Design, Scales and Measurements: Ordinal, Nominal, Ratio, Interval, Likert. Preliminary Research: Literature Review, Construction of Hypotheses

Module II: Data collection methods

Primary And Secondary Data; Data Collection Methods: Observation, Survey, Questionnaire; Steps in Constructing Questionnaire, Type of Questions, Introduction to Projective techniques

Module III: Sampling

Nature of Sampling, Steps of Sampling Design, Sampling Frame, Sample Selection Methods - Probability and Non Probability, Sample Size, Sampling Errors and Principles of Sampling.

Module IV: Data Collection Field Work

Fieldwork procedure, Common sources of error in the fieldwork, Minimizing fieldwork errors, Tabulation of collected data

Module V: Data Analysis

Data analysis-I: Test of significance Z, t, F and chi-square, Data analysis-II: Correlation and Regression techniques, Data analysis – III: Introduction to Statistical Package

Module VI: Report Writing

Research presentation and research process examination; Report writing – Format and Types of research report.
