PROGRAMME OUTCOMES

Bachelor of Commerce 2019-2022

[PO.1]. Knowledge of Business, Commerce and Emerging Technologies: The program will enable students to develop business acumen, managerial skills and abilities and be capable of maintaining business accounts using innovative emerging technologies. The course will provide thorough knowledge of finance, HR, marketing, international business, corporate & business laws, accounting and taxation etc.

[PO.2] Handling of trade, commerce and industry: The course will develop the required knowledge, skills and attitude for the handling of trade, commerce and industry

[PO.3] Problem-solving and decision making: Developing the ability to identify, formulate and provide creative and innovative solution frameworks to real world complex business and social problems by applying quantitative and qualitative problem-solving tools and techniques.

[PO.4]Business Environment Analysis: The course will develop the ability to do the SWOT (Strengths, weakness, opportunities, and threats) analysis of the business environment and predict the future of the business.

[PO.5]. Understanding business processes and work teams: Will enable students understand business processes and work teams for better business outcomes.

[PO.6] Think critically and independently : The program will develop the ability to think critically and independently translating into a well -developed personal value system

[PO.7]Ability to identify entrepreneurial opportunities: The program will encourage entrepreneurship spirit among students and encourage them to participate effectively in social, commercial and civic issues ultimately leading to national development.

[PO.8] Developing Business Communication: Developing effective presentation and business communications skills for communicating effectively in the business environment and with various stakeholders at large

[PO.9]Research and Business Intelligence: The program will develop the capacity to understand and analyze the business and commerce knowledge, developing research acumen for innovative business solutions.

[PO.10] Responsible Professionals/Future leaders: The program will develop the foundations of business ethics, prepare responsible global business leaders/citizens, establishing the importance of ethical conduct in business at national and international levels.

K. Syllabus

Module I: Set Theory & Functions

Theory of Sets: Meaning; Elements; Types of sets, Subsets; Super sets & Power sets;

Operation on sets, Venn diagrams, Cardinal no of a set and Applications of set theory; Concept of inclusion-exclusion principle with simple example, Finite, Countable or Infinite sets; Cartesian product of sets. Real number systems, Constant and variable, functions, types of functions, Some useful functions in Business and Economics limits and continuity of a function of one variable.

Module II: Techniques of counting and Number System

Basic counting principle, Factorial Notation; Binomial coefficient; Permutations and Combination; Permutation with restriction; Circular Permutation and Combination with restriction. Series and Sequence- A.P. and G.P.

Module III: Simple, Compound Interest and Annuities

Simple Interest, Compound interest (Nominal and effective rate of interest), Concept of present value and amount of sum, Concept of discount, Types of annuities, present value and amount of an annuity, including the case of continuous compounding.

Module IV: Matrices & Determinants

Matrices; concepts and types; properties; Addition; Multiplication; Transpose and inverse of matrix; Algebra of matrices; Ad joint of a matrix; Determinants; Properties of determinants; Solution of simultaneous Linear Equations; Business applications of matrices; Solution using inverse of the coefficient matrix; Numerical Problems.

X. Syllabus

Module I: Consumer Behaviour

Consumer sovereignty-limitations. Approaches to the study of consumer behaviour-cardinal approach-the law of equi-marginal utility, ordinal approach – indifference curve analysis and its properties. Consumer equilibrium, Price effect, income effect and substitution effects. Engel curve. Consumer surplus – meaning-analysis limitations.

Module II: Microeconomics and Demand Analysis

Nature and scope of economics; Difference between micro and macroeconomics, Nature of economic problem. Basic postulates, Role of price mechanism. Theory of Demand and Analysis: Demand- demand determinants – law of demand-characteristics exceptions -Elasticity of demand – price elasticity – types – determining factors- change in demand and elasticity of demand-business applications of price elasticity- concepts of income and cross elasticity of demand. Measurement of price elasticity of demand by total outlay method.

Module III: Theory of Production and Cost

Concept of Production Function- Law of variable proportions and stages of production. Isoquants, marginal rate of technical substitution, Return to scale.

Revenue curves- Average revenue and marginal revenue curve, and elasticity of demand.

Cost curve in short and long run, average and marginal cost curve and its relationship.

QQQQ. Syllabus

Module I: Overhead Costing

Definition – Classification of overheads – Procedure for accounting and control of overheads – Allocation of overheads – Apportionment of Service department costs to production departments – Repeated Distribution method – Simultaneous equation method – absorption of OH's – Methods of Absorption – Percentage of direct material cost – Direct Labour Cost – Prime Cost, Direct Labour hour rate and Machine Hour Rate – Problems.

Module II: Costing Methods

Costing Methods Introduction - Job Costing – Batch Costing – Contract Costing- Process Costing – principles – distinction between Process and Job – Preparation of process accounts – treatment of normal loss – abnormal loss – abnormal gain – Joint and By-products. Service costing.

Module III: Marginal costing and Break-Even Analysis

Concept of Marginal Costs and Marginal Costing: Assumptions of Marginal Costing; Marginal Costing vs Absorption Costing; Advantages and Limitations of Marginal Costing; Break Even Analysis: Break-Even Point, Margin of safety, Angle of Incidence.

Syllabus

Module I: Introduction

Introduction to Operations Research, Definition, scope and limitations of Operations Research

Module II: Linear Programming

Linear Programming – Basic Concepts, Model formulation; Solution methods – Graphical Solution method, Simplex method (problems involving only upto 3 constraints and of inequality <), Application of LPP in business decision making.

Module III: Transportation Problem

Transportation problem- Initial Basic feasible solution (North West corner rule, Vogel's approximation method), Test for optimality (The Modified Distribution (MODI) method)

Module IV: Assignment Problem

Assignment Problem – Introduction, Approach of the Assignment model, Solution Methods (Hungarian method)

Module V: Game Theory

Game Theory- Concept and definition; Solution methods of Pure Strategy games (with saddle point), Significance of Game Theory.

Module VI: Queuing & Simulation

Introduction, Elementary queuing system, Introduction to Single – channel queuing model (with Poisson arrivals and Exponential service times), (no numerical); Introduction to Simulation, applications, advantages and drawbacks of simulation, Introduction to Monte – Carlo Simulation, Role of computers in Simulation
